

A Systematic Suppression of 100 Million People

Why is Falun Gong persecuted in China?

In the 1990s, Falun Gong became widely popular across China and was endorsed by the government. But that July, then Chinese Communist leader, Jiang Zemin, launched a violent campaign to “stamp out” Falun Gong, viewing its principles of truth-compassion-tolerance, which revival of traditional spiritual values as a competitor to the Communist Party’s atheist ideology, which the Party had forcibly imposed on the Chinese people during the Cultural Revolution, and its popularity as a threat to his regime’s political control. The CCP hates Falun Gong’s principle because CCP implements a tyranny of false and evil fighting, based on the heresy of the West-Leisure Marxism-Leninism, atheism, and a revolutionary movement that talks about party spirit and destroys humanity. It destroys the country, harms the people, and kills people and is bloodthirsty.

“Defame their reputations.
Bankrupt them financially.
And destroy them physically!”

—Jiang Zemin

On July 20, 1999, across China under the veil of darkness, police dragged Chinese citizens from their beds. Many would be taken to holding centers and jails, others beaten, and some would die from torture. The Chinese Communist Party (CCP) ordered nationwide book burnings, publishing bans, and ransacking of homes; all to destroy Falun Gong instructional materials. State-owned enterprises, schools, and government offices started mandatory re-education sessions to root out the spiritual practice and reinforce communist ideology. Propaganda saturated state-run media, demonizing the practice.

Real attacks on Falun Gong in the West by CCP thugs..

The picture on the top right is the documentary “False Fire”, which tells the “Self-Immolation” performed by the CCP in Tiananmen Square-A Massive Propaganda Stunt Contrived to Demonize Falun Gong in the Minds of China’s People. False Fire video can be watched on www.falsefire.com. This is the authoritative documentary on the suspicious points of the staged “self-immolation” incident. It won an honorary award at the 51st Columbia International Film Festival for its analytical approach and exposure of the tragic event. The communism regime has expended one quarter of China’s financial resources to persecute Falun Gong, which is one of the main reasons why the persecution is able to last. On left picture, Countless Falun Gong practitioners in China were arrested and imprisoned for clarifying the truth.

CCP Attacks in the U.S. and Around the World

In the U.S., CCP propaganda and attacks against human rights advocates have been common. They have received death threats, been spied on, attacked in the streets, had their homes broken into, and even been shot at... Yet, under the shadow of CCP money and influence, many around the world have turned a blind eye to the persecution inside China.

Key Numbers of the Persecution

- 100 million people were practicing Falun Gong when the persecution began in 1999.
- Millions of practitioners have since been abducted, imprisoned, tortured, fired from jobs, expelled from school or forced into homeless.
- 450,000—1,000,000 practitioners are illegally held in labor camps, prisons, and detention centers.
- Over 80,000 cases of torture have been recorded.
- Over 4,000 have been killed as a result of torture and abuse in police custody since July 1999.
- Tens of thousands (possibly hundreds of thousands) of Falun Gong practitioners may have been killed in order to extract their vital organs.

Terror Unleashed across China

On Tiananmen Square, uniformed and plain-clothes police brutally beat innocent practitioners (regardless of their age, gender and nationality) in broad daylight.

Ms. Gao Rongrong tortured with high-voltage electric shocks by Chinese police.

University Lecturer Ms. Zhao Xin sustained fractured vertebrae smashed as the result of brutal beating, died after suffering Six Months.
